Risks

Payrix Direct Debit System:

- The accounts from which Direct Debits are to be taken may not have sufficient funds or credit balance and therefore the debit transaction may be rejected;
- A Customer may dispute or Chargeback a debit that has been processed and you will be required to refund any amounts Payrix has been required to return to the Customer and a fee applied to your account;
- If you ask Payrix to perform a debit from an account without the account holder's authority, you may have to repay the amount of the payment and any loss or damage suffered;
- The account nominated by the Customer may be owned or controlled by a different party or entity;
- Customers may use forged or stolen account details or credit or debit cards, which may result in a Chargeback and a fee being processed against your account;
- Direct Debit, including payment variations, amendments or integrated Direct Debit Request information received by the Payrix System after 1530 hours AEST or not on a business day, may not be processed until the next business day; and
- Unless you take adequate security precautions, it may be possible for unauthorised persons to gain access to your account and use and view your information or send us instructions using your passwords. You should always ensure that appropriate steps are taken to reduce this risk and enable Two-Factor Authentication (2FA) to access the Payrix payment system.

Payrix Payment Gateway / IVR:

- A Customer may dispute or Chargeback a debit that has been processed and you will be required to refund any amounts Payrix has been required to return to the Customer; or
- Use of the Service may be disrupted if technology or systems employed by Payrix or other businesses involved in the payment process fail for whatever reason and may result in delays in payments being processed by Payrix and settled to your account. This may impact on your available cash flow; or
- Customers may use forged or stolen credit or debit cards which may result in a Chargeback being processed against your account and a fee applied to your account; and
- IVR has dependency on your phone line services. In an event that the phone line services are down due to system issues, this may disrupt the payment processing services for your Customers.
