

WHAT TO PUT ON YOUR PAYMENT PAGE:

Before accepting any electronic commerce transactions over the internet, you must establish a website (approved by the merchant) which clearly displays the following information:

1. Your business trading name, which must correspond with:
 - the name that will appear on cardholder statements (you must state on your website what name will appear on cardholder statements),
 - the name advised on the payment record.
2. If the name of your website is different to your business trading name, it is especially important that your business trading name is prominently displayed so the cardholder can readily identify you as both the merchant and the name that will appear on cardholder statements.
3. Your legal business name (if this differs to your business trading name).
4. The physical address (including the country) of your approved place of business. A merchant that primarily operates from a personal residence must include the city, state/province, and country of its Permanent Establishment, but is not required to provide the residence address.
5. Your business and customer service contact details must include a telephone number or email address for customer queries, along with a secondary contact detail of the following:
 - facsimile number(s),
 - social media, such as Facebook, Twitter, Instagram
 - chatbot/chat box
6. A complete description of the goods and services available for purchase on your website with the price clearly stated.
7. Details of your return/refund policies, cancellation policies, and other purchase terms and conditions, and a confirmation of acceptance of the terms and conditions upon customers' purchases. This can be achieved through either:
 - A 'click to accept' (or other acknowledgement) button, checkbox, or location for an electronic signature in the sequence of final pages before checkout.
 - A statement that confirmation of acceptance of terms and conditions is implied by submission of the order on the checkout screen near the 'submit' button.
